

JAMES E. BOLES JR.

James E. Boles Jr. is a Retired Air Force Lt Colonel, Founder of Embrace the Faith Foundation, Inc (Non-Profit Organization), and proud Active Financial Life Member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc (34 years). Lt Col Boles was born in Beaufort, SC where he attended and graduated from Beaufort High School. He enrolled and graduated from Fayetteville State University in Fayetteville, NC. with a Bachelor's Science degree in Business Administration with a concentration in Finance and was commissioned as a 2nd Lieutenant in the Air Force Officer (AFROTC Detachment 607). Lt Col Boles retired from the USAF with 22 years of dedicated military service. Lt Col Boles is currently employed with the federal government in the field of Contracting.

Mr. Boles currently serves as the Inaugural President, Fayetteville State University Military Alumni Chapter. The Chapter is a one of a kind – total virtual organization which leverages talents across geographic space opposed to being confined to a specific state or region.

EDUCATION:

Wesleyan College – Macon, GA
Bowie State University – Bowie, Maryland
Fayetteville State University, North Carolina

Executive Masters in Business Administration
Masters in Human Resource Development
B S in Business Administration